REFER TO PRE-FAIR & JR. FAIR SCHEDULE FOR SPECIFIC DATES & TIMES

HEALTH REQUIREMENTS:

1. All lamb projects (breeding or market) must have a “scrapie tag” present in their ear (prior to county tagging) identifying their flock of origin. Contact USDA for information on scapie tags at (614) 469-5602. Animals without official scrapie identification are ineligible to exhibit, compete and/or sell at the Scioto County Fair.
2. All tags and identification must remain on animals at all times. According to the USDA official Scrapie tags cannot be removed. If a tag is lost, it must be reported to the Extension Office immediately. Animals not having tags or identification (or evidence of them) are ineligible to exhibit at the fair.
3. There are no health certificates or tests required for breeding or market lambs for the fair. However, they must be free from disease including sore mouth, foot rot, club lamb fungus, etc. and adhere to any ODA guidelines and/or tests. All animals are subject to a vet inspection at the fair. Please note that animals being transported across state lines and/or commingled may require additional health assessments. Please contact your veterinarian for advice on specific circumstances. Any animals not meeting vet approval will be dismissed and are ineligible for exhibit.
4. According to ODA guidelines, members must keep all production, market and treatment records for at least five (5) years.
5. All animals must be disease free and have up to date vaccinations (as recommended by your vet) for proper disease prevention. Animals not meeting vet approval will be dismissed and are ineligible for exhibition. Market animals must adhere to appropriate withdraw times for any medication and/or vaccinations.
6. All 4-H livestock exhibitors MUST comply with the county, state and federal health regulations for exhibiting livestock on the fairgrounds. If livestock health certificates and/or testing are required for any livestock they must be arranged and /or presented to the fair veterinarian or ODA official upon request.
7. Any animals exhibiting abnormalities, symptoms of sickness or disease, evidence of testicular tissue, improper and/or unhealed castration and/or dehorning can be disqualified from exhibition, show and/or sale by the designated Fair Vet. If the Fair Vet determines that an animal is in violation of these rules, it must be removed from the fairgrounds as per official fair veterinarian instructions and according to Junior Fair guidelines.
8. Drug Youth Notification Forms (DUNF's) must be completed accurately and completely at the Scioto County Fair on all designated animals or order for those animals to be exhibited, shown and/or sold at the fair.
9. Lamb tails must be docked by the spring tagging. Ultra short docks are discouraged in accordance to Ohio recommendations and may contribute to prolapse problems.
10. The use of a stomach tube or pump for any purpose other than the relief of temporary gas on the day of exhibiting or weighing is prohibited and can only be used in accordance with Vet recommendations. Any such action must be in accordance with vet instruction and related to the animal's well being.

GENERAL SHEEP RULES:

1. All sheep projects must be in the member's ownership, possession and continual care by May 1 of the current year. Any special arrangements must be approved individually and on file at the Extension Office by May 1.
2. All projects must be weighed and/or identified at an official county tagging (for that project) during the current 4-H project year. 4-H'ers must all appropriate enrollment and identification forms on file in the Extension Office for the current year. Only entries meeting these standards are eligible for exhibition, show and/or sell at the fair.

Official identification will be an official scrapie flock identification tag that must be present in the animal's ear by the county tagging (identifying the animal's flock of origin) and a Scioto County tattoo. The tattoo will be placed in the animal's ear at the county's identification event. Market lambs will also be identified with an official Scioto County ear tag
4. 4-H members are responsible for their project animals from the start of their project year until they are loaded for shipment, their sale contract is fulfilled, the animal is taken home and/or their project year is completed. Members are responsible for their project animals at all times. 4-H Volunteers, Extension Personnel, or Agricultural Society members are not responsible for the safety of the animals under any conditions.
5. 4-H members must show and/or sell their own projects. If a 4-H'er has other commitments/interests and feels that they cannot be present to show, exhibit and/or sell their own project according to Junior and Senior Fair exhibition guidelines, then the 4-H'er and their parents must decide what is most important for them. If their project animal dies after the project enrollment or identification deadline, they may not substitute another animal for any reason but are encouraged to create a poster or similar educational exhibit about their project to be exhibited at the fair. This includes showmanship classes and Showman of Showmen competition. Only Exceptions: 1) A medical emergency excused by an Extension professional and superintendent-in-charge prior to the event. Proposed situation must be received in writing and accompanied by medical excuse/statement from doctor prior to the event. 2) The 4-H'er is participating in a 4-H competition at the State Fair. Only under these circumstances can a junior fair member show and/or sell another member's project.) Adults are not eligible to show and/or sell animals during the Junior Fair. If a 4-H'er is not excused prior to the Junior Fair Animal Sale, and is not present to sell their own market animal, that animal will be sent to the stockyard and sold for market price. It will not be eligible to sell in the Junior Fair Sale and cannot be taken home.
6. 4-H members taking beef, sheep, swine and goat projects may begin their project(s) by identifying and weighing two (2) animals of the same species and project. One animal may be used as an alternate (in case of sickness, etc. of first animal) and/or registered for exhibition at the Ohio State Fair. The second identified animal in the market beef, sheep, goat and swine projects may also be enrolled in the appropriate carcass activity. Note: 4-H'er may only show and sell one market animal (project) at the Scioto County Fair. Absolutely no substitutions or change of animals can be made after the animals have been brought to the fair for competition.
7. All project and member information must be recorded on a 4-H'ers enrollment form by the Fair enrollment deadline in order for them to be eligible to compete or exhibit any project in the Junior Fair. All Junior Fair information on enrollment and animal identification forms will be assumed complete and accurate upon submission and cannot be changed after stated deadlines. It is the 4-H'er's responsibility (and their parent and/or guardian's) to inspect all completed forms (before signing) them to insure their accuracy.
8. If any project animal dies or is injured after the stated county possession date, or after it has been identified and/or weighed, there will be no substitution of animals. However, 4-H members may receive credit for their project, provided they complete the club's meeting and project completion requirements. They must also exhibit an educational poster in the 4-H Building if they wish to receive a premium and fair pass for that project. They cannot exhibit, show and/or sell another project as a substitute for the dead or injured animal. Members interested in Dairy, Horse, Poultry and Rabbit projects may explore Senior Fair Open Class exhibition opportunities.
