GENERAL BEEF RULES:

1. All projects must be in the member's ownership, possession, and continual care by date of the annual tagging as listed on the of the current year County Pre-Fair Schedule. Any special arrangements must be approved individually and on file at the Extension Office by May 1.
2. All projects must be weighed and/or identified at an official county tagging (for that project) during the current 4-H project year. 4-H'ers must have all appropriate enrollment and identification forms on file in the Extension Office for the current year. Only entries meeting these standards are eligible for exhibition, show and/or sale at the fair.
3. 4-H members taking beef, sheep, swine and goat projects may begin their project(s) by identifying and weighing two (2) animals of the same species and project. One animal may be used as an alternate (in case of sickness, etc. of first animal) and/or registered for exhibition at the Ohio State Fair. The second identified animal in the market beef, sheep, goat and swine projects may also be enrolled in the appropriate carcass activity. A family alternate can be tagged per immediate family. Each child that tags a carcass animal will be excluded from the family alternate option. The names of the children must be included on the family alternate form. Note: 4-H'er may only show and sell one market animal (project) at the Scioto County Fair. Absolutely no substitutions or change of animals can be made after the animals have been brought to the fair for competition.
4. 4-H members are responsible for their project animals from the start of their project year until they are loaded for shipment, their sale contract is fulfilled, the animal is taken home and/or their project year is completed. Members are responsible for their project animals at all times. 4-H Volunteers, Extension Personnel, or Agricultural Society members are not responsible for the safety of the animals under any conditions.
5. Proper show halters and lead straps are required for each beef animal exhibited. Livestock should be tied securely with a halter and neck rope in the stall.
6. Beef projects must be halter broken and able to be led by the 4-H member. Livestock posing a safety threat will be removed from the show ring and/or fairgrounds and forfeit any exhibition, show and/or sale privileges. The 4-H member must lead the animal in the ring for the duration of their class and be placed by the judge in order to participate in the show and/or sale. At no time may adults show and/or sale an exhibitor's project.
7. The Junior Fair strongly recommends that adhesive not be used. If adhesive is used, it must be removed within two (2) hours after the end of the show. Water may only be used on sale day (on market steers) to reduce heat stress while animals are being transported for harvest. (See Special & General Market Livestock Rules). The use of grooming aids containing pigment (including those used on the skin, hair and hooves of the animal), and any other products not approved for use on market animals, are prohibited. Please note that many show or grooming products may contain such items. Please note that just because a product is sold (or commonly used) as grooming agent that does not mean it is ODA approved for use on livestock!

BEEF BREEDING RULES:

All beef breeding animals (heifer and dam & offspring projects) must be tagged during the official Scioto County tagging for these projects and have an identification form on file in the Extension Office for the current year.
